

Many people have the misconception that all rammed earth walls are "crumbly" in texture. Stabilised rammed earth contains cement and weatherproofing additives in the earth mix which makes the walls much stronger than traditional rammed earth. The finished walls can also be sealed with "bondcrete" for added protection. All rammed earth constructed by our rammed earth builder is the highest quality stabilised rammed earth, to prevent "the Crumbles".