

If you need a fully-built package we can recommend a local registered builder (*depending on your area) to provide you with a complete design and build solution. Of course you can opt for our design-only or design and drafting service and choose your own registered builder, the choice is yours.

Our recommended local registered builder will utilise the expertise of our recommended rammed earth builders for the rammed earth wall construction so you can be assured your rammed earth will be built by the best.

If you choose your own registered builder, we recommend that your builder also works with one of our recommended rammed earth wall builders to ensure that your home will stand out from the crowd.

Each of our registered builders is selected for their exceptional commitment to customer service and their experience in building quality rammed earth homes. This ensures you will have a hassle-free and enjoyable construction experience from start to finish and a home you will be proud of.

In order to achieve this commitment to quality our registered builders do limit the number of homes under construction at any one time so your home can receive the attention to detail it deserves.

So from time to time, there may be a small waiting period between the completion of your home design and commencement of construction and will be very much worth the wait. But for most of the time, construction can commence as soon as your plans are shire approved!

So if it's a complete design and build package you are after, give us a call today to find out how we can help you to create your very own Rammed Earth Living masterpiece. We will exceed your expectations!

Pictured: One of our finished projects at Gingin, WA